A TOUR

THROUGH WINNIPEG.

~>>@~~~

TARTING from the Post Office by Portage ave., and along Kennedy street, we come to the Court House, Gaol, Cricket and Lawn Tennis Grounds, Educational and Parliament Buildings, Lieut.-Governor's Residence, Drill Shed and Fort Osborne, the latter being the barracks of the Mounted Infantry School. Crossing Osborne bridge to Fort Rouge (named after the old trading post which was located here), along River avenue, across Main street bridge, we arrive at the site of Old Fort Garry, of which little remains but a couple of old buildings, now used by the Street Railway Co., and one of the stone entrances facing Broadway. At Broadway, turning east, crossing Broadway bridge to St. Boniface, see the Bishop's Palace, R.C. Hospital, Convent, College and Cemetery, and further on the Exhibition Grounds; thence down the river to the Louise bridge, by which we return to Main street. We now drive north to St. John's, passing the Ladies' School and Boys' College and Drewry's Brewery to the St. John's Cemetery, were the graves and monuments of the poor fellows shot in the late troubles in the Northwest are to be seen. Raturning to Winnipeg, we wind up by visiting the various public buildings, viz. : City Hall, Monument, Manitoba College, and Churches of att Denominalions, etc., etc.

1837. QUEEN VICTORIA.

SILVER HEIGHTS.

Situated about five miles from the P.O., west, is one of the pleasant of drives in the vicinity of Winnipeg. The hotel, which is well kept, and has beautifully laid out grounds, is a resort of pleasure-seekers both winter and summer. This drive can be extended by a visit to Brookside Cemetery and the Race Course, returning by Notre Dame street.

STONEY MOUNTAIN.

Can be visited either by carriage or railway, its chief feature of interest being the Provincial Penitentiary, built on the summit of the mount, from which there is a very fine view of the surrounding country.

SELKIRK.

A town about 22 miles distant, north, is a very pleasant drive in fine weather. Railway trains run every second day, and steamboats ply the river in summer daily, making Selkirk quite a retreat for the families of business men during the hot months. The Lunatic Asylum is one of the sights of this neighborhood, also the stone fort, a Hudson Bay Co. post, one of the few remaining trading forts in its entirety on the banks of the Ked river.
